Ministry Leadership Cohort

FELLOW DALLAS THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY ALUMNI,

We know how rare it is to truly step away—not to prepare sermons, solve problems, or carry the weight of ministry leadership but simply to be renewed. We know many leaders relish the idea of sitting alongside other leaders who genuinely understand both the joys and the pressures of ministry. Does that sound like something you need, too? That shared need is exactly why The Hendricks Center created the Dallas Theological Seminary Ministry Leadership Cohort. This experience is designed exclusively for DTS graduates currently serving in ministry who want to remain healthy, sharp, and deeply connected.

WHY JOIN A COHORT?

SPIRITUAL RENEWAL

Find rest from the relentless pace of ministry and refocus your heart through prayer, reflection, and worship. Return home leading, not from depletion but from overflow.

EDUCATIONAL ENRICHMENT

Hear from DTS faculty and gain insights for today's ministry challenges. Your coach will work with you to develop a Personal Development Plan, which will serve as a guide when your cohort meets monthly for the rest of the year.

RELATIONAL CONNECTION

Build deep, lasting friendships with fellow DTS alumni who understand your ministry context. Experience vulnerability and support in a safe environment. Receive contextualized coaching from ministry-experienced alumni who will invest in you long-term. Each cohort is limited to eight participants and two coaches per group to allow greater in-depth discussion and personal one-on-one coaching.
